What's Up

China believes that the UN is currently acting against its established priorities with regards to events in Cuba. The Security Council, for the "maintenance of international peace and security," is currently doing nothing to stop the impending threat of nuclear war. The lack of immediate sanction against either country makes the UN as competent as the League of Nations. In the maintenance of world peace and prosperity, it is imperative to call for the cessation of increasing militarization.

Who We Are

The People's Republic of China (PRC) is an exciting country. Our name in Chinese, 中国, literally meaning "central nation." The modern China, established 1949 by our glorious leader Mao Zedong, continues the eminence China achieved through thousands of years.

What We Want

Promoting international harmony is central to our goal of internal economic rejuvenation. To that end, China promotes world peace and neighborly trade, while castigating any act of aggression motivated by ideology rather than true military necessity. The country takes a neutral stance, neither endorsing aggressive nuclear stationing, nor expansionary colonialism.

What We've Done

Throughout history, China has promoted greatness alongside harmony. As is evident in the Sino-Indian conflict, we have always favored nonviolent communication and hostility de-escalation. We expect this to hold true as well for the agitations in Cuba.

What To Do

DaBBCap n' Com - A formal meeting to be held in a neutral country that allows Kennedy and Khrushchev to exchange their perspectives and discuss respective demands in a nonviolent environment.

ToPaPoNA - Imposes a direct taxation on countries that have nuclear arms, the more nuclear weapon a country has, the more tax it pays. This would continue until the situation deescalates, and the revenue will be distributed among countries who have actively advocated against nuclear proliferation.
